STEAK SHOOT NEWEST BEEF PROMOTION

GLENVILLE, July 14 — Newest idea for promotion of the sale of beef—and new form of entertainment for those who have a sharp eye on a gun sight, or a quick hand at games of skill—is a steak shoot that will be held at Glenville, next Sunday, July 17, under sponsorship of the Kern County Cow Belles.

Competitors will be shooting not for the usual turkey or ham, but for a California Beef Council Steak certificate that can be traded for a prime steak, or any other cut of beef, at any meat market.

The steak shoot will get underway at the Glenville rodeo grounds at 10 a. m., and will continue throughout the day. A lunch will be available on the grounds.

Shotgun and rifle competition, as well as games of skill, will be set up.

Evelyn Farnsworth, past president of the Kern County Cow Belles, and general chairman of the shoot, says that as far as she knows this is the first steak shoot ever held, anywhere.

The public is invited to attend.

Southern County 4-H Members At Whitaker Camp

VISALIA, July 14—Enrolled in the first of two sessions of 4-H summer camp at Whitaker forest this week are 100 4-H members from Tulare county, including a number from the southeastern county area.

Opening Monday morning, first camp session runs through Friday; second session will get underway Sunday.

Camp director is Paul Clabaugh, of Fresno; program directors are: Betty Warmuth, 4-H home advisor from Tulare county; Ray Copeland, also from the county farm advisor office; Mrs. Clifford Jasper, of Visalia, is camp nurse, and Mac Mato, of Visalia, is life guard.

CLOVIS SHOUSE STRATHMORE HOUSE MANAGER

STRATHMORE, July 14—Clovis Shouse has been named manager of the Strathmore Cooperative association citrus house in Strathmore, effective July 8.

He replaces Willis Hunt, who was hired out of southern California last year. Hunt, it is stated, will go to a north-county citrus organization.

Griswold Heads Success Committee

PORTERVILLE, July 14—Chet Griswold has accepted chairmanship of a Porterville chamber of commerce Success Recreation committee, designed to put some steam behind county planning for recreation facilities in the Success dam and reservoir area.

AS A feature of the year-long Centennial celebration of the Grand Council of Royal and Select Masters, now being observed throughout California, the Grand Master of that body of York Rite Masons instituted Porterville Council of Royal and Select Masters, York Rite of Freemasonry, last night in a ceremony at the Porterville Masonic lodge hall. A dinner at 6 p. m., to which the public was invited, opened the Porterville institution ceremony. Grand Master Robert L. Karnes, above, of Montebello, presided.

Ball Team To Honor Manager At Saturday Game

PORTERVILLE, July 14—The Porterville Bears, one of California's classiest semi-pro baseball teams, will honor Manager Tommy Brown Saturday night, when the club meets the Fresno State College varsity at Porterville Municipal field at 8 p. m.

Under the management of Brown, the Porterville club has developed into one of the top semi-pro teams in the state, and last year traveled east to represent California in the national baseball tournament, after winning a California tournament.

The team has already won its league this season and will again compete in the state tournament in August.

Participating in the Tommy Brown testimonial Saturday night will be officials of the Porterville chamber of commerce and of the City of Porterville.

COTTON PLANTING UP 7 PER CENT IN CALIFORNIA

SACRAMENTO, July 14—California cotton acreage this year is up seven per cent over last year, but the 960,000 acres estimated by the California Crop and Livestock Reporting service is only one per cent above average acreage.

Tulare county has 182,000 acres, compared to 174,200 acres last year; county production last year was 339,000 bales. All San Joaquin valley cotton producing counties are up some, with 1960 acreage estimated at: Fresno county, 243,000; Kern, 235,000; (Continued On Page 7)

Barn Theater Guild Meets Tomorrow

PORTERVILLE, July 14—Porterville Barn Theater Guild will hold an "emergency" meeting in the form of a no host luncheon at the Starlight Inn, tomorrow, Friday noon, with Guild president, Mrs. Paul Dobson, of Exeter, urging all Guild members to attend. Reservations are not needed.

FARMERS CONSOLIDATE ORGANIZATION

EXETER, July 14—Farmers of Tulare County, representing practically every major commodity, last Thursday completed consolidation of area groups into an organization designed to assure adequate labor to harvest crops.

The new group, Tulare County Farmers' association, has more than 200 paid-up members, it is stated, and O. W. Fahrney, formerly with the state department of employment, has been hired as executive director of the group.

Directors of the association are: Richard Stark Sr., of Strathmore, citrus; Andy Pixton, Lindsay, citrus and olives; Jim Hurley, Lindsay, citrus; Harry Swartz, Porterville, citrus; C. N. Spivey, Cotton Center, diversified farming; Byron Jennings, Visalia, deciduous fruits; Merlon Swearington, Exeter, deciduous fruits.

Bob Dofflemeyer, Exeter, citrus and deciduous fruits; "Tug" Wilson, Woodlake, citrus and deciduous fruits; John Dungan, Exeter, citrus and deciduous fruits; Eben Pinkham, Exeter, deciduous fruits and grapes; Jim Young, Ivanhoe, deciduous fruits and citrus; M. W. Dula, Visalia, field crops, deciduous fruits, walnuts.

Two additional directors will be named, it is stated; and the board of directors will elect association officers.

SAMMY LEE WILL GIVE DIVING EXHIBITION DURING DEDICATION OF WOODLAKE POOL, SATURDAY, JULY 23

WOODLAKE, July 14 — Residents of the southern San Joaquin valley will have an opportunity to see the world's greatest fancy diver in action when the Woodlake community officially dedicates its new Courtney McCracken swimming pool, Saturday evening, July 23.

Headline performer in the dedication program will be Dr. Sammy Lee, two-time Olympic games diving champion for the United States of America, winner of the Sullivan award for his athletic ability and his effort in the field of international relations, former U. S. Army major, and now a practicing physician at Santa Ana.

Dr. Lee will bring with him a troupe of entertainers from his own swimming school, including Ray Reyes and Kirk Vaught, expert divers, and Jean Messerouli, water ballerina. Two shows will be presented, the first at 7:00 p.

POWER FOR ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE

LINDSAY, July 14—Domer F. Power's home town of Lindsay gave him an official sendoff in his campaign for election to the State Assembly when a non-partisan Power For Assembly committee was formed Tuesday at a meeting of 25 persons in the Mt. Whitney hotel.

Co-chairmen of the Lindsay-Strathmore committee are: Clovis Shouse, Democrat, and Tom Shimazaki, Republican. This is the first Power For Assembly committee; it is planned to have community committees throughout the 35th Assembly district of Tulare and Kings counties by the end of July.

Help Asked For Control Burn On Reservation

SPRINGVILLE, July 14—Help from interested farmers is asked for a controlled burn on the Tule River Indian Reservation next Saturday, July 16, when about 200 acres of brush will be burned, and the area later reseeded to range grasses.

Harry Scruggs, chairman of the Springville unit of the Tulare County Range Improvement association, says that while the association is not officially connected with this burning project, members are asked to "lend a hand."

In charge will be residents of the reservation and the Indian service.

Norene Seratte Gets $100 Bonus

PORTERVILLE, July—Norene Seratte, of 303 Doris street, is $100 richer today just because she patronized a Tuesday Bonus store (Bullard's) last Tuesday; her name came up Tuesday evening, she had her sales slip, and, presto, a check for $100.

But there is plenty left for next Tuesday: $120 in Pot No. 1, and $109 in Pot No. 2. Either pot might be yours when you shop Tuesday Bonus stores on Tuesday.

NEW RODEO GROUNDS AT SPRINGVILLE

SPRINGVILLE, July 14 — Purchase of the Harbor Box company mill site on Highway 190 just south of Springville was announced yesterday by the Springville Rodeo association, with development of the site planned as the future location for the annual Springville rodeo.

Monte Gifford, president of the Springville Rodeo association, says that the mill pond will be drained partially and dirt-filled to create a rodeo bowl, with seats to be placed on the surrounding hill slopes to provide an amphitheater setting.

Balance of the site will be cleared for parking and concession locations.

"This land purchase and planned development will provide an ideal site for the rodeo," Gifford (Continued On Page 8)

FIRE HITS SPRINGVILLE WATER SUPPLY

SPRINGVILLE, July 14—The 1,100-acre fire that burned this week near Coffee Camp on the middle fork of the Tule river, has left the community of Springville with a curtailed water supply, since a large section of the power company flume that transports water eventually used in the Springville Utility district system was lost in the fire.

At the present time, use of water in the community is greatly curtailed, with pumps taking water out of the Tule river upstream from Springville and putting it through the community's chlorination system.

A close check on Springville water supply is being kept by the Tulare County Health department. No swimming is being allowed now in the Tule river between Springville and Coffee camp because of the emergency situation.

THE WORLD'S greatest fancy diver—Sammy Lee, who won top honors for the United States in two Olympics, and who will give an exhibition of diving at dedication of the new Courtney McCracken community swimming pool at Woodlake the evening of July 23. Now Dr. Lee of Santa Ana, Sammy will bring three professional divers and swimmers to participate in his show. Dr. Lee was one of the honored guests, three years ago, at Porterville's Banquet of Champions.

SPINNING AND LEAPING STARTS OFFER TWO SCHOOLS OF THOUGHT

SOME TIME BACK, we wrote an on the spot report on "driver education," Porterville style. We thought it was all good fun, and gave the whole proposition a left-handed pat on the back. Subsequent events have proved that early and unbridled enthusiasm about a proposition is very unwise, indeed.

IF THE TRAINING HAD ended with the school course in driving, all would have been well, but after passing the tests, the students are demanding graduate school work. Unfortunately, it seems that we have been elected to the role of chief professor.

IT ALL STARTED INNOCENTLY enough, when we unwisely asked what the scholars of the automobile about our house had learned in driver training. Somehow words failed them, but they were perfectly willing to show me. We selected a spot that was roughly in the middle of a 100-acre field for the demonstration. "Miss Grinding Gears of 1960" took the controls. After parrying with the ignition, choke, clutch and one thing and another, we leaped away something like a jack rabbit with the spasms.

BETWEEN SNAPS OF THE NECK, we shouted to push in the clutch, turn off the key, or something. All we got was more leaping, until the car, in self-defense settled down to a steady motion. "Miss Grinding Gears" was not at all perturbed and felt that the leaping start had certain advantages.

THE OTHER SCHOLAR hereabouts goes more of a spinning start. This is achieved by revving up the motor to a deafening roar and then letting out the clutch. If the axles can stand this, it really gets you off to a rubber torturing get-away. Under circes, the old professor, is trying to reconcile the leaping and spinning schools of thought with ordinary driving procedure, as practiced by those of us who are unschooled in these finer techniques.

SO, AS IF WE HADN'T enough to do each day, we now take a practice spin (on private ground, of course) where the constabulary won't have to worry about the performances, and we won't have to worry about the constabulary.

IF IT ALL ENDED HERE, it would not be so bad, but we find that we are constantly being brain washed, motor vehicle style. Every time we brake too fast, fail to signal properly, cut a corner (slightly only), or deviate in the least from undriver-like deportment, we are lectured by certain teen-age passengers. What is worse, they keep score, and we're now wondering if we will even be able to pass our next driving test.

COME TO THINK OF IT, there is lots to be said in favor of the horse and buggy days!

Million Dollars For Promotion Of Raisins

SACRAMENTO, July 14—State Director of Agriculture William E. Warne has approved assessment rates for the State Marketing Order for California raisins for the 1960-61 marketing season at $2.50 per ton each upon producers and processors or a total of $5.00 per ton.

Assessment collections of about $1,000,000 are anticipated. The funds may be used for advertising and promotion of California raisins and other activities, including research, authorized by the Marketing order.

Individual notice will be given by mail to all raisin producers and processors of record with the Department of Agriculture shortly before the 1960 harvest season begins.

10 Per Cent Surplus Diversion For Cling Peaches

SACRAMENTO, July 14—State Director of Agriculture William E. Warne has approved the establishment of a Surplus Diversion Stabilization fund, and a 10 per cent surplus diversion of No. 1 cling peaches for the 1960 season.

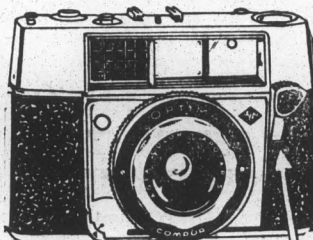

Director Warne gave his approval after receiving recommendations from the Cling Peach Advisory Board, which is established to help administer the Marketing Order for Canning and Freezing Cling Peaches.

Each producer is required to contribute to the stabilization fund, in proportion to the No. 1 cling peaches which he delivers to processors, by a method known as "withholding by processors." Each processor is required to withhold from each producer an amount equal to the value of 10 per cent of the quantity of No. 1 cling peaches received.

YOUR LEGISLATOR AT WORK!

Senator
J. Howard Williams
32nd District
California State Legislature

A family is, and always will be, the basic unit of our human social structure. Its establishment and preservation is the subject matter of law which has been on the statute books of all nations since the beginning of recorded history. But there are still problems connected with families which require our legislative consideration.

The rearing of children, the training and education of the next generation, is one of the fundamental purposes of the family unit. Ordinarily this purpose is accomplished with a minimum of governmental attention. But sometimes fate intervenes, and then government must act, to protect the children involved and thereby to preserve its own continuance. "Orphans care" as a government responsibility goes far back in history.

Here in California, this responsibility was assumed with statehood. At first, institutional care was provided, but this century brought with it greater understanding of the importance of the family as a social unit, so "mothers' aid" replaced the earlier system. When the federal social security law went into effect in 1936, our state system was enlarged and merged into the nationwide program, and was further expanded in 1949.

Our present system of aid to needy children is administered by the counties, with supervision and financial support from the state and federal governments. Sharply rising costs and other disturbing factors have brought increasing criticism from local sources. To investigate the situation, the Senate committee on labor and welfare recently held a two-day hearing.

Spokesmen for the state department of social welfare gave data which highlighted the mushroom growth of the program. In June of 1951, 131,349 children in 57,219 families were receiving this aid. Less than ten years later, in June, 1959, 196,161 children in 71,060 families were on aid. Monthly costs bounced from $6,352,000 to $11,601,000.

Answering in advance those critics who allege that the program has become a refuge for unwed mothers and their illegitimate off-spring, for deserting fathers who let the taxpayers support their children, the department alleged that the hard core of the problem lies in two minority racial groups who have special difficulties with respect to employment and economic status. In these two groups, about 60 of each 100 children have unmarried parents, as compared to 25 out of 100 children for the remainder of the caseload. One quarter of these two groups have received aid for more than five years, only one eighth of the others.

The department said a multi-pronged legislative program to improve the program is being developed for consideration at our 1961 session. In the meantime, intensive activity by county law enforcement officers is keeping criminal violations at a minimum.

Local officials criticized the program severely. One declared that illegitimacy has extended through three generations of a family still receiving children's aid. It was said the program has failed to weld the family units

LEGION PRESENTS 50-STAR FLAG TO HOSPITAL

PORTERVILLE, July 14—Members of American Legion Post 20, Porterville, led by Commander Pete Wells, presented a 50-star flag to the Porterville State hospital in ceremonies at the hospital on July 4. The presentation of the flag and a memorial plaque was made to Dr. Charles Neff, acting superintendent and medical director, in the absence of Dr. James T. Shelton.

The color guard was composed of Lloyd Whistance, John Beyerback and Barney Richardson, Americanism chairman and color bearer. Charles Goeble was the flag inspector, and sergeant-at-arms was Willard Wall. After the new flag was mounted, members of the Legion conducted a flag burning ceremony destroying the old flag.

A full afternoon of activities featured a softball game between teams directed by Al Melcer, Porterville director of recreation and Cliff Bown, captain of the Porterville team. A series of relay games was also included in the program. Mrs. John Busse, president of the Hospital Council of Volunteers, who acted as hostess to the Legion members, also directed the judging of the games, assisted by other members of the Volunteer council.

Easily the most popular event among the approximately 1,000 patients observing and taking part in the day's festivities was a pie-eating and watermelon-eating contest.

In the evening, 80 of the hospital's patients were guests of the Porterville Exchange club at the fireworks display in the College stadium.

Meat Tenderizers

• Fissure or Fistula

Q. Would the frequent use of meat that has been treated with tenderizing powder have any harmful effects?

A. There seems to be no reason to believe that use of tenderized meat is harmful. The tenderizing powders, which are themselves harmless, partially digest meat (protein) and the products formed are those normally produced in the breaking down or digestion of protein.

Q. What is the difference between an anal fissure and an anal fistula?

A. A fissure is a slit-like, elongated, shallow ulcer. A fistula is a canal or tube-like abscess. Anal fissures often become infected and burrowing of the infection may result in formation of a fistula. Cure of a chronic anal fissure (or an anal fistula if one has formed) requires removal of all involved tissue and is mainly a surgical matter.

Safeguarding the potency of certain biologicals, antibiotics, insulin and other drugs requires that they be kept under correct temperature control. To provide this essential safeguard, a glistening electric refrigerator is an important part of our prescription room equipment.

Rockwell Employees Get Polio Shot Series

PORTERVILLE, July 14 — As part of the Volunteer Health program, of the Porterville division, Rockwell Manufacturing company, all eligible employees recently completed the polio immunization series. This was accomplished through the cooperation of the Porterville office of the Tulare County Health department.

In addition to the polio shots, all employees are given an annual chest x-ray. This is also made possible through the Health department. The Mobile unit visits the Rockwell plant during a regular trip to the Porterville area. Employees are given time off from work to have their x-rays taken, also for the polio shots.

The Rockwell program also includes a Blood Donor club, affiliated with the Porterville Blood bank, for use by employees and their families.

This Volunteer Health program is one of the many benefits received by Rockwell employees. Rockwell management feels that benefits such as these not only make a better life for its employees, but also better citizens of the community, it is stated.

Time Out

By DAVIS HARP

PLENTY OF ACTIVITY IN THE GOOD OLD SUMMER TIME

The good old summer time. The time of year when you have several hours to kill between the time you get off work and the sunset. It seems that decent folks don't go to bed before sun down, so what are you going to do?

You can't watch TV, 'cause you have already seen the shows during the past season, and those death scenes on the westerns begin to look alike on the second time around. You could start drinking heavily, and forget about everything, including the day's work. But then, who would pay the bills?

Your answer to the problem is to get out of the house and take advantage of the recreation that California has to offer. Porterville, being a part of this great state, is a pretty busy little town this summer. The Little League ballparks are fairly bulging with potential major league stars. If you don't like baseball, go watch the parents; that's even more fun than the game. Then we have the Porterville Bears, currently sporting a 22-2 record as they steamroll toward another California amateur baseball title. Again, if you don't like baseball go anyway and make jokes at those funny fellows in the blue suits who are so concerned with keeping dirt off home plate.

For those who like water sport we recommend the municipal pool. Just hustle up there, slip into a bathing suit and stand along side until you see an opening and then dive, don't wait, for he who hesitates is lost at the city pool. You may not have another opportunity if you pass up the first one.

For those who like big water we recommend Lake Isabella. We recommend it only because it is the only big water near Porterville. This man-made lake is probably the most unattractive body of water that we have ever seen. This long straggling lake, set among the bald hills, is fairly low right now, and it is made even more unattractive by the many skeleton-like trees that protrude from its dark expanse. But Lake Isabella offers swimming, boating, water skiing and sun-burn, and what more could you use for within such a short distance of our city.

The favorite evening recreation at our house is driving. Along about dark - thirty, two or three nights a week, we take the wife and daughter in our new little German-made car (the same type of car that we swore we wouldn't be caught dead in three years ago) and set out on tour. It's a restful way to kill a few hours, providing you stay off the main roads.

But if you get real bored some evening, come over to our house. We still claim the unofficial Villa Street Tether Ball Championship, and are taking on all comers.

We Only Heard

By BILL RODGERS

NO LIGHT, as yet, on the question of whether woodpeckers fit the hole in the fence post to the acorn or the acorn to the hole. But one student of nature informs us that the woodpeckers don't eat the acorns they put away; they wait for the acorns to get wormy, then eat the worms . . . End of outdoor lecture for this week.

COMMENT OF our sports columnist, Davis Harp, concerning the "ruining" of the Sierra by logging operations has brought some pro and con observations—agreement with Harp's thought that people who appreciate the outdoors hate to see logging activity; agreement also that certain areas have not been cleaned up after logging operations; but also the observation that the areas that are in really bad shape are on privately-owned land, not forest service land . . . Personally, we have a sentimental attachment for the Sierra, as do many persons, and personally we hate to see the logging industry move further and further into the mountains. Yet we can't quarrel too much with the national forest policy, set by congress, to harvest the resources of the forest—resources that in the Sierra are primarily timber . . . Those persons who want to see the Big and Little Kern areas as nature made them better get on their horse pretty soon; a few years from now those persons who want to see the Sierra wilderness will just about have to move into the national parks, where policy is different from that of the national forests, park policy being to let nature alone.

IDEAS ON how to observe Porterville's Centennial year—1961—are being talked this morning at regular meeting of directors of the Porterville chamber of commerce. The community should do the centennial up in fine fashion over a period of a year, with all events during the year carrying the centennial theme, and with something special now and then . . . We have inside information that technique of the old anvil salute is being investigated, and from what we hear, an anvil salute, properly done, makes a sonic boom sound like a cap pistol. We would like to talk with any old timer who knows how to fire the anvil salute; we just can't let this noisemaker of the past become a lost art.

STATE FARM COMMODITY PRICES VARY

SACRAMENTO, July 14—Prices received by California farmers as of June 15 were substantially lower than a month earlier for oats, potatoes, and oranges and moderately lower for wheat, barley, sorghum grain, hay, lemons, beef cattle and calves, lambs, turkeys, eggs, and milk cows. Higher prices than last month were received for dry beans, grapefruit and hogs.

Prices received on June 15 were lower than a year earlier for corn, barley, sorghum grain, potatoes, cotton, grapefruit, lemons, hogs, beef cattle and calves, lambs, milk, and milk cows. Prices were higher than a year ago for wheat, flaxseed, rice, dry beans, hay, oranges, wool, chickens, turkeys, and eggs.

Prices were materially below average for corn, wheat, barley, flaxseed, sorghum grain, rice, potatoes, grapefruit, lemons, hogs, chickens, and eggs. Higher than average prices were listed for dry beans, hay, oranges, beef cattle and calves, and milk cows.

FISHIN'

By Slim Washburn

Fishing is dropping off on most of the Tule river watershed, with the water getting low for this early in the season. Some good fishing for native trout in the hard-to-get-at-spots.

Good fishing for planted trout around Camp Wishon, Camp Nelson, Cedar Slope and the Moorehouse Hatchery. Peppermint creek is low, and only fair fishing. These spots are planted every week.

Big Kern and Little Kern rivers, reached by trail and pack from Quaking Aspen, are both very good. The water in Big Kern is at its best. Little Kern dropping, but still excellent.

From the high country, out of Balch park, reports are that Evelyn, Blossom and Hidden lakes are very good. Small streams in this country are low and fishing fair.

CHIMES

By
Rev. N. J.
Thompson

How many families in the United States own their homes? At least 19,575,000, according to latest estimates.

What magic turns a shack or a mansion into a home? Is it the oak or maple furniture? The carpeting? The pictures on the wall? The trees and flowers in the yard? Of course, not. It's living together with those we love—that's what makes a house a home.

A London newspaper well stated, "home is the blossom of which heaven is the fruit."

Today it is very easy for the homeowner to spend much time and money making his home beautiful and comfortable, even luxurious. Mr. and Mrs. Suburbia, especially, have their minds on landscaping, installing a swimming pool, a patio, outdoor barbecue, etc., as well as electric appliances to make the maintenance of the home easier.

But we must never forget that our earthly home and all its lovely furnishings and comforts are only temporary. In that wonderful place called heaven we can have a permanent home. Jesus said, "In My Father's house are many mansions. I go to prepare a place for you," John 14:2. His death on the cross opened the door of those heavenly mansions for you and me.

The Christian is a citizen of heaven, a subject of the King eternal. Like Abraham of old, he is just a pilgrim and stranger here, looking for "a city not made with hands, whose builder and maker is God." St. Paul states it this way: "Now then we are ambassadors for Christ." Ambassadors? Of course. It's our duty and privilege to represent our Lord in this strange, fallen world.

Living some day with those we love, in heaven—that's what will make those mansions home-like.

NEW UNIFORMS FOR

SIMONICH HEADS

TULARE, July 14—Anton Simonich, Tulare rancher, has been reelected president of the Friant Water Users association; Frank Hill, of Strathmore, was reelected vice president.

From

Daybell
Nursery

By John

This time of year the man of the house is probably more annoyed with lawn moths and army worms than he is with the bill from Daybells. This is fortunate in some ways but usually a little rough on the rest of the household.

Lawn moths are sort of long suffering creatures too, because they're blamed for most everything that happens to a lawn. They are blamed if the lawn dies from mowing too close to the ground. They're accused if the watering is too little, too late, or unevenly done. They even take the blame if it's a new lawn planted in pure sand without benefit of mulch or fertilizer.

Lawn moths are also the guilty ones if fungus attacks the succulent grasses or nematode takes over the dichondra. They get blamed for more things than a Republican at the Democratic convention.

As a result of all this we have a problem putting something into a box that eliminates all your lawn problems. However, we do have a product containing insecticides, fungicides, iron, and even cadmium that cures everything that it's possible to cure and this sells for two ninety eight and will treat two thousand square feet of infested lawn.

If you don't have any lawn moths and feel left out come down and we'll supply the seed to get you started. Many kinds, suitable for sun or shade, can be found here on "E" Street, north of Olive.

Mrs. C. H. Burns, Jr., Southern California housewife

"THIS is the only home I've ever really been comfortable in," Mrs. Burns told us. "We're most thrilled with it."

The enthusiasm at the Burns' home begins with the electric radiant heat. It warms the whole house evenly, from "head to toe." No drafts. So quietly, they never know it's on. So cleanly, too.

You couldn't pay Mrs. Burns to change from flameless electric cooking. Pots and pans stay cleaner, pastel kitchen stays brighter. Mr. Burns says the food tastes better.

Since they've moved into their all-electric Medallion home, Mrs. Burns believes the whole family has enjoyed better health. And like the Burns family, you, too, can enjoy truly modern living if the home you buy has won the Medallion Award.

Only one new home in five qualifies for the Medallion—an award which assures you:

1. All-electric kitchen equipped with major electric appliances, including range and oven.
2. Housepower wiring to make modern electric living possible.
3. Light for Living—lots of light for comfort, safety and beauty.

New Rodeo

said. "We will open at this location with our 1961 show next April."

Five Springville community organizations make up the Springville Rodeo association: The chamber of commerce, the Grange, the Veterans of Foreign Wars post, the Farm Bureau center, and the Lions club.

Staged for the past several years in the Gill ranch arena on the Balch Park road, the Springville rodeo draws the top professional cowboys of the nation. It is usually the first show of the California rodeo season, coming in the early spring when the foothills are at their colorful best.

A five-acre section of the property, including an excellent home, located on the southwest corner, will be sold at auction; an easement from the association will open this property to 190 highway.

Planning for development of the site and for the opening rodeo in 1961 will officially get underway Friday evening, at 8 o'clock, when directors of the rodeo association meet at the water district office in the Springville postoffice building.

Association officers for the 1960-61 year will be elected at this meeting of representatives of the organization that are part of the association.

YELLOW - STRIPPED ARMY WORMS WILL DAMAGE ALFALFA AND COTTON UNLESS CONTROL MEASURES TAKEN

VISALIA, July 14 — Yellow-striped armyworms continue to be

Sammy Lee

and he tied for valedictorian honors. He received his college education at Occidental.

It was in 1948 and 1952 that Lee won gold medals for the United States in the Olympic games. Later he toured the Far East as an emissary of the U. S. State department.

And in 1953, he won the Sullivan award, the most coveted honor in U. S. sports, as the "amateur athlete who by performance, example and good influence did most to advance the cause of good sportsmanship during the war."

In addition to his world honors as a diving champion and his good will tour of East Asia, Sammy Lee, the oriental who proved that in America desire and ability can take any man to the top, attended the 1956 Olympics in Australia as the personal representative of President Dwight D. Eisenhower, and was also appointed by the President to the first National Youth Physical Fitness committee.

Money raised by the Sammy Lee show and the community carnival and barbecue at Woodlake will go into a fund to construct dressing rooms for the new community pool. People of the Woodlake and Three Rivers communities are cooperating in the program that is under director of the Woodlake Valley chamber of commerce.

"Home operated" carnival booths will be set up near the pool, and John Wollenman, of Three Rivers, will prepare the barbecue supper, that will include beef, beans, sliced tomatoes and French bread.

A number of swimming coaches from throughout the southern San Joaquin valley have sent word to the Woodlake chamber of commerce that they are bringing their team members to Woodlake to see the great Sammy Lee in action.

a problem in alfalfa and cotton fields throughout the county. Other crops have also reported damage from this pest; growers are warned to keep careful watch for these worms to prevent damage to alfalfa, cotton and other crops, since extensive damage has resulted in alfalfa and cotton where these worms were not controlled.

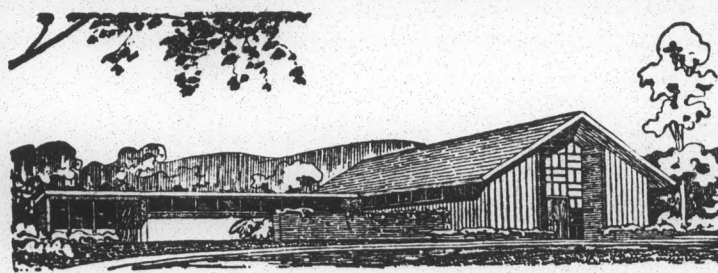

Barriers of 10 per cent DDT or Toxaphene dust prevent migration of worms from alfalfa to cotton fields. Use six pounds of dust per 100 foot of barrier in a band eight to 12 inches wide. Control is more effective if band is placed in a ditch around the field with plowed soil thrown away from the field to be protected.

Chemical control should be used in alfalfa if it is not practical to cut the hay. Dylox at the rate of eight ounces of the active material is the recommended insecticide. It has a waiting period of 14 days after application before cutting. Malathion is only recommended in case of emergency because of the short waiting period of seven days after application before cutting time. This material is not as effective as Dylox and several growers have reported poor control. Parathion is not recommended because it is more hazardous to use and is no more effective than Malathion. Parathion has a waiting period of 14 days after application.

The yellow - striped armyworms that are infesting fields at this time are the second brood. It is possible to have four broods of this pest during the season.

Help Asked

Persons assisting are asked to report at 12 noon, and bring their own lunch. For directions, Scruggs says, take the Redwood Corral road above the new lumber mill on the reservation, cross Tule river and continue to a tank truck that will be parked along the road. Over the past several years, considerable brush land has been converted to feed-producing land through the county range improvement program.
